A slight pull separates the body sections to make a long or short pooch. The hook side of Velcro is glued to one face and the nap side to the other. Velcro can be bought at notions counters

■ STICKY DOG will help teach little hands coordination. The body is made from smooth blocks of splinter-free maple, all turned alike on the lathe. One-inch disks of Velcro, which are used to stick the sections together, are glued to 1-in. disks of felt. Color-key the end surfaces of the turned parts, then cement the Velcro disks in the center of the painted spots so exposed color around edges will indicate the proper ends to press together to assemble the train.
